VOLUME XXVI. NUMBER 28.

IRONTON, MO.

THURSDAY, JANUARY 12, 1893.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Bonanza has a new "ad."

The tie and hoop business still flourishes.

Lopez's come to the front this week with a new ad.

The boys have had a grand time skating during the past week.

There is considerable wood in the market, but a good article is scarce.

The winds have blown in fury equal to the equinox during the past week.

The Knights of Honor are contemplating an oyster supper in the future.

This winter has been one of the finest ice producers known in this section for years.

Most of our ice dealers have their houses well filled and are ready for the trade next summer.

Rev. D. S. Tuttle will be in Ironton on Sunday, January 22d, and hold services morning and evening.

There are a few pavements in town that need attention. When the time comes they will be almost impassable.

The officers-elect of Ironton K. P. lodge will be installed Friday night. A full attendance of members requested.

The colored boys are thinking of giving their minstrel entertainment at Graniteville and other places adjacent.

There were services in all the Ironton churches but the Baptist Sunday, Rev. Shoush being absent in Farmington.

Remember you can secure the finest of fine printing at the REGISTER office. Fancy Wedding and other stationery a specialty.

Dr. Geo. W. Farrar of Pilot Knob and Miss Annie Whitehead were united in marriage in Chicago Wednesday, January 4th, 1893.

Buyers of hogs are numerous and the country has been well secured by parties engaged in shipping pork to the St. Louis markets.

The time for killing deer expired the first day of January. Venison has been scarcer the present season than for many years past.

Valley Lodge, No. 1870, K. of H., will have installation services at its hall Wednesday evening, January 18th. A full attendance is desired.

Wm. Blackman of St. Louis is thinking of putting a drill at work on his property west of Ironton. There are some splendid indications of mineral.

There will be a box party at Workmen's Hall, Graniteville, Friday evening next for the benefit of the M. E. Church. A pleasant evening is assured.

A revival meeting is in progress at the M. E. Church, under the leadership of Rev. Freeman of Arkadelphia, Arkansas. The meetings will continue for some time.

The local freights have been running but every other day for a few weeks past, the other crews being at work on through runs, the immense through traffic requiring the change.

Mr. Sam. P. Reyburn has purchased an interest in the store of H. N. Baird & Bro. in Arcadia, and last week removed his family to that place, where he will in future make his home.

Postmaster Beard recently made a trip to Hendricks in the interest of Missouri's mineral display at the World's Fair. Mr. Beard was successful in securing a fine lot of specimens from Butler county.

DIED—At her home in Caledonia, Mo., on January 3d, 1893, after an illness of six days, of pneumonia, Mrs. Augusta Gibson, wife of Rev. Wm. P. Gibson, of the M. E. Church South, aged about 65 years.

Farrar-Whitehead—At the residence of the bride's parents, 2705 Paulina St., Ravenswood, by the Rev. Harry Whitehead, of Potomac, Mo., Miss ANNA L. WHITEHEAD to Dr. GEO. W. FARRAR of Pilot Knob, Mo.—Chicago Tribune.

Somebody tried to effect an entrance into Lopez's store about twelve o'clock Monday night, but were heard by Mr. Gib. Sloan, who was sleeping upstairs. He fired a couple of shots and the would-be burglars got away in a hurry.

The city council held a meeting Monday afternoon. An ordinance prohibiting the running at large of hogs was under discussion, and a measure of that kind will probably be enacted at an adjourned meeting to be held next Monday.

All work at Schneider's quarry has been suspended and there will be but little activity in granite for the next two months. At that time, however, it is expected that both the Syntetic and Schneider companies will begin work on a large scale.

Dr. Sam Smith, the dentist, now has his office at the Keesling house, and is prepared to do all kinds of work in dentistry. Teeth extracted without pain or no pay. Dr. Smith is an expert in his profession, and guarantees satisfaction in every instance.

From the St. Louis papers we see that R. B. Lindsay of 1521 Olive street, was last Saturday granted a license to marry Miss Jennie Dixon, of South St. Louis. Mr. Lindsay was born and reared here, and this piece of news will be interesting to a number of acquaintances.

Iron Lodge, No. 107, I. O. O. F., last Monday evening installed the following officers, to serve the ensuing term of six months: A. P. Vance, N. G.; Jos. B. Walker, V. G.; Jno. Blumel, Treasurer; J. J. Baldwin, Permanent Secretary; E. D. Ake, Secretary.

Mr. W. C. Johnson, a former resident of Iron county, now living in a Chicago suburb, wants to know why we don't give him some credit for the recent Democratic victory in Illinois.

We have no doubt that Warren contributed his full share to the thirty thousand Democratic majority in Cook county.

Mrs. W. A. Paul of Arcadia had her pocket-book picked of $73 while in St. Louis a few days before Christmas. A yellow girl who had been detected the same day for stealing another pocket-book was found with Mrs. Paul's empty pocket-book on her person, and when tried was sent to the penitentiary for four years.

Died—MAGGIE JANE, daughter of Geo. and Lydia Dodson, at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Solomon Good, four miles south of Ironton, Sunday morning, January 8th, after one year of suffering with consumption. The funeral was conducted at the residence by Rev. Hornel, pastor of the M. E. church. The family have our heartfelt sympathy.

So chicken-stealing is resorted to to vary the monotony of cyprian life in the valley. Once more we caution the denizens of immoral resorts and the refuse who patronize them. Go a little slow, ladies and gentlemen! There may be a hen on which it would be perilous for you to truck with. Go slow! Again we say, slow!

A. J. Dewitt, who lives in Pilot Knob across the creek, surprised a lot of chicken thieves while they were making a raid on his chicken coop last Tuesday night. He followed the culprits to a notorious resort in the north end, where he found them killing the fowls and preparing for a feast. Two or three Sullivanville licks passed, but no arrests have followed. Why not?

"Old John"—the fruit peddler, is a typical Dago, and his dialect, expressions and twinkle of the eye are true characteristics of the native of the sunny skies of Italy. He visits every town between here and St. Louis, and is well known to the citizens along the road; while ever on the alert, for a nickel, John is by no means lacking in generosity, and an appeal for a banana from one he knows is seldom refused. He is making money and counting the days until he will be able to go back to Italy and live like a prince.

We learn that Charles Schuler of Pilot Knob, Mo., who has worked in the mines at that place for many years and is known as one of the best and most careful and competent miners, has been awarded the contract for the sinking of another shaft at Schneider's granite quarry in this county, similar to the one he recently fired, which was 80 feet deep with chambers on either side of the shaft. That was so complete a success, that it insured him this second contract. The quantity of powder used in the first blast was immense. He is the same party who took the contract and successfully completed it for the Grisedale Brewing Company, of St. Louis, some time ago.

Annapolis News.

Ed. Register—Misses Clara, Minnie and Hattie May started on their return to Oberlin, Ohio, last Monday.

Eustace Rockwell went to St. Louis Monday.

R. W. Woody's restaurant was entered by burglars sometime between Saturday night and Monday morning, and a large quantity of cigars, candy and canned goods were carried off. So far no clew has been obtained of the burglars.

J. M. Francis went to Winona Monday.

Mr. Adams moved on his land over in Reynolds county last week.

Wm. Kitchell is said to be very sick. Ben. Kitchell is at home now, and John Kitchell is here visiting his parents.

Joe Baget has a bran new baby girl at his house.

A team ran away with a load of ice Friday. It started about the top of the hill and came down Church Street, scattering ice at every jump.

The wagon turned over near the depot and spilled what ice remained, and one of the horses was skinned up a little on some pling, but not seriously hurt. The team belonged to Sam. Jackson and was hauling ice for D. A. Johnson. The driver was walking when the team started and no one was hurt.

D. A. Johnson has a very sick child and Dr. Minor was here to-day to wait upon it.

river at this point, but they failed, and they went down the river and crossed opposite Charlestonville. And there was fought one of the greatest battles of the war. It was there we lost one of our best Generals, Stonewall Jackson. But speaking of Stevensburg, it is a lovely country all the way to Charlottesville, my old home. My memory often runs back to my boyhood home. I remember well the old log school house, but all is gone now and nearly all of my old school mates are gone over the river "where the surges cease to roll." I sometimes think of the beautiful little song I used to bear sung in the army. Here is a verse:

"Take me home, let me see what is left that I know!"

Can it be that the old house is gone, The friends of my childhood indeed must few be,

And 'tis left to lament all alone?" But there is one thing Mr. C. will never forget. It she never comes here again, she will never forget that dear companion that sleeps at Annapolis, Mo. May God help her to ever be ready to meet him.

ISAAC. January 9, 1893.

The senior proprietor of this paper has been subject to frequent colds for some years, which were sure to lay him up if not checked by the native of the sunny skies of Italy. He visits every town between here and St. Louis, and is well known to the citizens along the road; while ever on the alert, for a nickel, John is by no means lacking in generosity, and an appeal for a banana from one he knows is seldom refused. Ed. Register—Such dreary weather as this is; the sun has almost refused to shine during the last three weeks.

Well, Christmas has come and gone. There are no saloons near here, but there are distilleries which serve as a substitute, and any time that you may choose to you may see someone going with their oil can. They do not take their jugs; they can fool the marshal better with their oil can. Go into the country, and all through the night you may hear the clatter of horses' feet that are carrying their riders to the backwoods hoe-downs, which are very common in the country about Christmas times.

There has been considerable sickness in this locality since my last writing, and there has been several deaths of pneumonia and typhoid fever.

Our old friend and neighbor, Edward Kelley, died on the night of the 20th inst. of pneumonia fever. The deceased was one of the oldest citizens in this neighborhood and claimed to be ninety-one years old. He leaves an aged widow and many friends to mourn his loss.

Albert O'Bannon is at home again, after a two months' visit to his sister at Winona, Mo.

Sam King is at home from New Madrid, where he has been at work.

Columbus Kelley of Kennett, Mo., is visiting friends and relatives in this vicinity. He informs us that he has lost his wife while living in the swamps. It will grieve many to hear of her death, as her home was in this neighborhood prior to her marriage, daughter of C. C. Russell.

There will be a protracted meeting in progress here this week, conducted by Rev. Henry Ray of Gravelton, Mo.

Most of the people in this locality are going to Ironton to do their trading, because they can get better bargains. The merchants here will have to do better.

The public schools are closing and quite a number of young folk are preparing to enter college at Gravelton. December 26th, 1892. REX.

The continual succession of boils, pimples, and eruptions from which many suffer, indicates an impure state of the blood. The most effective remedy is Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It expels the poison harmlessly through the natural channels, and leaves the skin clean and clear.

From Graniteville.

Ed. Register—After an illness of twelve long months, Wm. O'Brien departed this life at 6 o'clock A. M. Saturday, Jan. 9, 1893, of a combination of diseases, kidney and liver troubles, and consumption. About twelve or thirteen months ago, Mr. O'Brien had an attack of la grippe, and made several trips to St. Louis in quest of medical aid, and did, to a certain extent, receive medical treatment, but a relapse came, and he was forced to again take his bed, and for several months of the earlier part of the season was able to get up and about, but he could not get over his illness, and he was taken out of our midst, leaving behind him a widow, and several children, and a large number of friends to mourn his loss.

On reaching home he was still very weak, but with medical assistance and kind nursing he seemed to rally considerably, and in a few days a material change for the better was perceptible. This change, however, did not come very long, when signs of dropsy were noticeable, and was only relieved, when death's icy hand was laid upon him in an unconscious state. He still maintained, until a very few days before death, that he was going to recover but when he lost his eye-sight, he was three or four days previous, he also gave up all hopes of recovery, and only knew those around his bed side by their voices, and conscious all the time until about twelve hours before he passed away, when it was clearly seen that death was near at hand, as he was growing weaker and weaker and died a hard death seemingly. Deceased was a most kind neighbor, good citizen, an affectionate husband and a true Christian member of the Catholic church, ever ready to contribute whatever was in his power toward the success and welfare of church or state matters.

Deceased leaves a wife and three little boys to mourn the loss of their departed father, and a mother. As evidence of deceased's high esteem and great popularity of all those who wished to pay their last tribute to the departed, was observed at the residence, where a great many were unable to get conveyance in order to attend the funeral. All the available hacks and other vehicles were loaded to their utmost capacity. The funeral procession started from the residence at 2 o'clock P. M. for Middlebrook cemetery, where the remains were beautifully and impressively laid away in a handsome casket, on which was a silver plate bearing the words "at rest," presided over by Rev. Father Wernert. Deceased was 41 years and 6 months of age.

Those spoken of last week on the sick list, are all considerably improved in health at this writing. John Lindsay has returned home from the city, until the cold weather is over.

A novel supper will be given at the M. E. Church on Friday evening next, for the benefit of the church. The title of which will be a "box supper."

All ladies who wish to take part are to prepare a supper for two persons and take it in a box, said box will be sold for 25 cents, and whoever buys a box will find the name of the lady that prepared the supper inside, and those two (the buyer and maker thereof) are supposed to devour the contents.

Our district school resumed business again yesterday morning.

The Schneider Granite Company have suspended work till February 1st. The Syntetic Company are doing very little work in this vicinity is practically dead.

Some of the colored talent, of Ironton, are billed to show in our town Thursday night.

Arrangements are now all perfected for the concert and ball, on the evening of the 25th of January.

Mrs. Maggie Rundle had her little son christened, William Arthur, by Rev. Rose on Monday evening last.

Southern California.

A handsome illustrated pamphlet, giving an account of the resources and interests of this unique section has been received at this office. The work is issued by Rand & McNally, of Chicago, and contains some fine work in the way of half-tone engravings and an excellent map of the section. Anyone who is interested in the land of oranges and olives, and desires a copy of this book, experience no benefit, you may return the bottle and have your money refunded. We could not make this offer did we not know that Dr. King's New Discovery could be relied on. It never disappoints. Trial bottles free at P. R. Crisp's Drug Store. Large size 50c. and $1.00.

That slight cold, of which you think so little, may lead to serious trouble with the lungs. Avoid this result by taking Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, the best known remedy for colds, coughs, catarrh, bronchitis, incipient consumption, and all other throat and lung diseases.

Personal.

Misses Belle Whitworth and Marie Gratiot are visiting in De Soto.

J. B. Walker spent last week in St. Louis.

Wm. B. Newman spent several days of last week in St. Louis.

Geo. May is working at Piedmont.

Dr. W. C. Patton of Cape Girardeau was in town Sunday.

Lee Duffy of Bismarck was in town Sunday.

Miss May McFadden has returned to St. Louis.

Mrs. J. S. Norman and daughter have returned to Illinois.

W. L. Matthews of Williamsville was in town Sunday.

Worthy Chas. V. Ryan returned to Ironton last evening. He informs us that the traveling lecturer will be here to-day. They all flock to the Valley as a place "where the wicked cease from troubling and the weary shall find rest."

P. R. Crisp, druggist, desires to inform the public that he is agent for the most successful preparation that has yet been produced, for coughs, colds and croup. It will loosen and relieve a severe cold in less time than any other treatment. The article referred to is Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is a medicine that has won fame and popularity on its merits, and one that can always be depended upon. It is the only known remedy that will prevent croup. It must be tried to be appreciated. It is put up in 50 cent and $1 bottles.

F. & L. U. Meeting.

ANNAPOLIS, Mo., Jan. 2, 1893.

In Memoriam.

HALL MIDIAN R. A. CHAPTER, No. 71, Ironton, Mo., Jan. 10, 1892.

This Chapter is called on to mourn the death of a beloved Companion, DAVID J. ALLEN, who departed this life at his home in Piedmont, Mo., on Sunday, December 11th, 1892.

Companion Allen was an estimable man and Mason, exemplifying in his daily life many of the virtues which it is the intention of our order to teach and inculcate among erring mankind. Of a generous disposition and kindly heart, charity never appealed to him in vain; his means and time were ever at the disposal of afflicted humanity; he was always found ready to comfort the distressed and strengthen the weak. Companion Allen was a man of rare energy and true worth, and, from an humble boy, by his own efforts and worth, won for himself an honorable and distinguished place among his fellow men.

In our order he was a devout and faithful believer, cherishing our ancient landmarks and ever aiding the lesser informed with his presence and sound judgment. While the memory of our departed Companion will last as long as time continues, still the pang of parting is lessened by the knowledge that he has wrought specimens of his skill that have advanced him to the mark of immortality, where the true and faithful shall be seated in the great conclave beyond, received and acknowledged amid exaltations of the sublime arch that casts a ray of light and splendor from the everlasting sun that welcomes the weary sojourner from this world, as he pauses on the threshold of the glorious hereafter. Therefore, be it

Resolved, That in the death of Companion Allen this Chapter in particular and the Craft in general sustains an irreparable loss.

That we tender the widow of our deceased Companion, the assurances of our universal sympathy in this her hour of severe trial and sorrow.

That, as a token of respect to the memory of our departed Companion, this Chapter be draped in mourning for a period of thirty days.

That a copy of these resolutions be sent the widow of Companion Allen, and a copy to the Iron County Brethren and Piedmont papers for publication.

Obituary.

Died—JOHN S., son of J. M. and F. J. Pickett, of the city of Chehalis, state of Washington. Little John was born in Centerville, Reynolds county, Mo., August 6th, 1883, and died in Piedmont, Mo., January 6th, 1893, aged 4 years and 5 months.

This is indeed a sad stroke, as the mother is here on a visit to her old home relatives and friends, and the father and remainder of the family in the Far West, and as we try to wait patiently to see the hand of the Lord in this, we take comfort from the grand old hymn we sang around the grave. "Asleep in Jesus, peaceful rest, Whose waking is supremely blest, No pain, no death shall dim the hour That manifest the Savior's power."

Mr. William T. Price, a justice of the Peace, at Richland, Nebraska, was confined to his bed last winter with a severe attack of lumbago; but a thorough application of Chamberlain's Pain Balm enabled him to get up and to work. Mr. Price says: "The remedy cannot be recommended too highly. Let any one troubled with rheumatism, neuralgia or lame back give it a trial, and they will be of the same opinion. 50 cent bottle for sale by P. R. Crisp."

COUGHING LEADS TO CONSUMPTION. Kemp's Balsam stops the cough at once.

Notices.

Any farmer or other person who is desirous of having some painting done and paying for same in hay, corn, or wood will find it in his interest to apply to me at once.
